

September 18, 2025: On Being Watched Inside of My Own Home

For whatever reasons that are best defined by those 'forces' of the world that are creating this dystopian present moment around me, the information that I am about to reveal is particularly 'bothersome' to their mind and operation.

This particular batch of information that will be conveyed soon is agitating their operation to such a degree that I am receiving 'negative stimuli' and 'negative feedback' before I even opened up the binder to retrieve this.

'It', the beast, knows what I have recorded and 'it' is especially bothered by 'its' exposure to the light.

From darkness to light is apparently only a concept that the beast believes in for 'its' opposition - not for 'itself'.

'From Darkness to Light' really is an interesting slogan to hold inside of a 'secret' society, am I right? Yes, I am.

From Darkness to Light. Let's reveal some light.
